HUN SHELLS FALL CLOSE TO HOSPITAL

Deliberate Attempt of Germans to Wreck American Hospitals Made Yesterday.

(Associated Press Cable)
With the American Army in France, May 27.—What was apparently a deliberate attempt to wreck American hospitals in the rear of the American lines in Picardy occurred Sunday afternoon when the Germans hurled high explosives and gas shells within a few hundred yards of two hospitals. Fortunately no damage was done.

By a coincident the bombardment was going on while American funerals were being held. Several shells fell a short distance from a funeral party. The services were not disturbed.

RUSS HAMPER HUN EFFORTS

(By Associated Press Cable)

Moscow, May 28.—Opposition by the peasants in the Ukraine against the Germans and Russians supporting the Central Powers is extending rapidly.

The peasants are firing forests, destroying buildings and otherwise hindering the work of German bands trying to commandeer food.

The Germans have been forced to send additional troops into the district where rioting is reported serious.

SERIOUS FIGHTING CONTINUES ALONG THE ENTIRE AISNE FRONT AND HEAVY FIGHTING IS BREAKING OUT ALONG THE AMIENS FRONT WHERE MAIN ATTACK MAY FALL.

"HUNS TAKE ENOUGH GROUND TO BURY DEAD"

Paris, May 28.—(Associated Press Cable)—The results of the first day of the long expected German offensive are considered in French quarters as satisfactory. By paying the price it was contended it was inevitable the enemy could gain ground. After the terrible struggle yesterday the Germans at a frightful cost advanced at the furthest point three and one-half miles.

Military officials say the enemy has won enough ground to bury his dead.

At no point has the Entente allied line been pierced. In close contact with the foe it has moved back step by step giving General Foch all the time he needs to place his reserves where he wants them.

London, May 28.—(Associated Press Cable)—The Germans yesterday forced a passage of the Aisne river west of the British sector, compelling the rest of the British line to fall back, the war office announced.

The enemy maintained heavy pressure all day yesterday against the allied line. Serious fighting continues today.

The Germans are delivering attacks in great strength along the entire Aisne front. In Flanders on the Lys front local fighting was resumed this morning.

PROGRESS OF THE HUN OFFENSIVE

The Germans striking south from the Chemin-Des-Dames, after carrying that important ridge in the opening of their new offensive yesterday, have pushed on rapidly and crossed the Aisne river between Vailly and Barry-Au-Bac.

This represents a front of nearly 20 miles along which the armies of the Crown Prince engaged in this great drive have crossed the Aisne. In addition they have apparently pushed at points south of the river and are striking for the river Vesle, which parallels the Aisne river along the greater part of this front at an average distance of about five miles.

The Vesle river is approximately 10 miles from the German point of departure, but the German penetration is apparently considerably short of this depth. The battle is continuing fiercely along the whole Aisne river front, the brunt of it being borne by the French before whose lines there was seemingly the greatest concentration for the enemy effort.

The French communications are excellent here, however, and the probability is that reserves are speedily being sent to the threatened points to place before the Germans a force that can effectively stop them.

The British, when the battle started, apparently were holding a line 12 miles between Bermicourt, 7 miles northeast of Rheims, and Craonelle, across the Aisne river to the northwest.

There is no indication that the British right flank was materially affected but the left flank, however, felt the effect of the impact on the French front further west where a crossing of the Aisne river was forced, and the British left flank was obliged to fall back in conformity.

The French bore the brunt of the blow in Flanders and repulsed it with the loss of scarcely any ground, the Germans succeeding only in pushing in something like a half mile south of Dickenbusch Lake, about 4 miles southwest of Ypres.

This morning the British and French made a counter attack in this sector which was progressing well at latest advices.

Military opinion seems to be swaying between the view that the southerly attack now being pressed by the Germans between Soissons and Rheims is the main enemy effort in the resumption of his offensive, or whether he is planning to deal an even greater blow at the Amiens front where his first great stroke was delivered this spring.

In gaining the heights north of the Aisne river and the famous Chemin-Des-Dames the Germans suffered most heavily.

Meanwhile there is very intense artillery fire from north of the Somme to the Avre in Picardy, the Germans made strong raids against the allied lines here, especially the American sector west of Montdidier. The Americans threw back the Germans in a counter attack after fighting in which the enemy suffered severe loss and prisoners were taken by the Americans.

HUNS FORCED TO BEAT IT IN SHORT ORDER

Triple Assault Made on the American Lines, Which Germans Penetrate.

But Americans Come Back and Drive Huns Back and Take Trench.

(Associated Press Cable)

American Headquarters on the French Front, May 27.—In the simultaneous attack of three German raiding parties against the American positions in Picardy today the enemy penetrated the American first line to a depth of 200 yards.

A brilliant counter attack threw the Germans out and the Americans kept on until they entered the enemy first line where they remained until ordered back.

The Germans suffered heavily. Several prisoners were taken by the Americans.

After a lull of several days the artillery bombardment in Picardy has become more intense on both sides. The Germans are throwing many gas shells into the American lines. The American gunners are returning the fire two-fold.

YANKEES AID THE TOMMIES

(By Associated Press Cable)

With the American Army in France, May 27.—(By Associated Press.)—A number of American airplanes this afternoon assisted the British infantry. Swooping down over the German lines the Americans poured an avalanche of bullets into the enemy trenches.

BAGS NINTH PLANE

SERGEANT FRANK BAYLIES

Sergeant Frank L. Baylies, who is from New Bedford, Mass., is fast becoming one of the most noted "aces" in France. He has succeeded in downing his ninth enemy plane in battle. Baylies tried to enlist in the American aviation service but was rejected because of "defective" vision. He then went to France in the French Hospital service, later joining the famous "Stork" flying squadron, which was commanded by the late Captain Guynemer, and quickly "made good."

GROUP B MEN IN FAYETTE COUNTY

There are eight men in group B, of Class One, in Fayette county, who are listed as remedial defectives, and who can voluntarily enlist but who cannot be sent to camp by the Local Board.

The men, as the term indicates, are suffering of some physical defect which can be remedied either by special medical treatment or surgical attention.

The eight men in the class, all of whom are white with one exception, are: Herbert Clinton Mickel, Edwards Austin Hopkins, Sherman T. Hosier, Herbert Underwood, Chauncey A. Pyley, Patrick Lafferty and Harry Terry.

With one exception—Edwards Austin Hopkins, who was examined by a Local Board in New York, where he is attending school—all of the men were examined by the Local Board in this county.

If the men voluntarily enlist, they will be given the necessary medical or surgical attention by the Army Medical Corps, or they may undergo treatment or operation before entering the service.

The other two groups—C and D—of Class one are: Men whose physical condition permits of limited service, and men physically unsound and whose condition permits of neither remedial treatment nor limited service.

WAR WORK ACTIVITY

Fifty Y. W. C. A. workers in addition to the 48 already "over there" have been asked for by the French Government to be sent out on the next boat. This, members of that organization feel, is the best endorsement of the work of the National War Work Council of the Y. W. C. A. can call forth.

Our own government has repeatedly shown its approval of the efforts of the Y. W. C. A. to meet the desperate emergencies of war in its relation to women, by the advantage the federal agencies have taken of the co-operation offered by the Association.

The enumeration of war activities now in progress under Y. W. C. A. auspices show the following—in addition to the work in France which includes service to ten base hospitals, as well as homes for American workers other than nurses, and foyers canteens for munition workers:

6 secretaries serving in Russia. Women in industry in both these war-stricken countries are helped to keep their health and morality to achieve their highest efficiency.

45 Y. W. C. A. Hostess Houses are in operation in the United States, two of which are for the colored race. Foreign speaking workers are also provided at the camp to aid non-English speaking wives and mothers of soldiers.

25 More Hostess Houses are authorized and under construction.

7 Of these are for the use of relatives and friends of colored soldiers.

187 War secretaries are connected with these hostess houses.

82 Community Club Centers with 143 Workers safeguard girls in munition factories or living in the vicinity of training camps. A corps of women physicians is sent out to lecture to girls, to their mothers and teachers on subjects relating to social morality.

21 Cities have been entered by the Foreign Language Service Bureau for Americanization. Government bulletins have been translated into thirteen languages.

350,000 Girls are members of the Patriotic League, organized to turn to useful account emotions which would otherwise run wild.

In addition to these activities the Y. W. C. A. War Work Council has co-operated with the government through its Housing Commission, is ready to provide with chaperones Units of girls enlisted in the Women's Land Army, and is putting forth every effort to adapt itself to the needs of the great army of women performing indispensable back-ground service in the war.

30 FOOT STAFF ON TOP OF COURT HOUSE

The work of erecting a 30-foot flag staff on the court house, authorized by the County Commissioners at a recent session, has been assigned to N. B. Hall; Deputy County Sealer of Weights and Measures, and the staff will be erected just back of the eagle on the roof over the south entrance to the structure.

An examination disclosed the fact that it was somewhat of a task to erect a staff properly, and particularly on the topmost portion, or clock tower, so that it was decided to place a 30-foot staff on the roof as above mentioned.

It is expected that by the end of the week Old Glory will be proudly floating over the county building for the first time.

The action of the commissioners is being commended on all sides.

SQUIRREL KILLS SMALL CHICKEN

The unusual spectacle of a squirrel killing and carrying off a small chick was witnessed by two or three men near the S. F. Snider home on the Greenfield pike, Monday noon.

The squirrel pounced upon the chicken much the same as a cat would catch a bird, and after biting it through, carried it into a tree, presumably to devour it.

REGULAR MONTHLY BUSINESS OF RED CROSS CHAPTER

Matters of Importance Disposed of by Executive Officers of the Fayette County Chapter of the Red Cross at Meeting Last Night.

The Red Cross Executive Board met in important session Monday night, with President Craig in the chair.

The reports of Mrs. Eva J. Penn, chairman of the Red Cross workshop and Miss Mary Robinson, chairman of the Home Service Department, were most gratifying, showing increasing activity in these two departments.

The Board was much interested in the work which the Home Service Department, through its head, Miss Robinson, is doing for the comfort and welfare of soldiers' families. Not only is Miss Robinson taking care of these families in Fayette county, but she has also gone over into Clinton county in response to a request from Camp Sherman. The American Red Cross Field Director at Camp Sherman wrote to Miss Robinson asking that a destitute soldier's family of Sabina be looked after. Miss Robinson went at once to Sabina finding the family in pitiable destitution, no pay having been received for two months and a case of appendicitis and other illness in the family.

Although over in another county, the necessary attention was given to the case.

Miss Robinson expressed her desire for an advisory board in connection with the Home Service department, and Miss Lina Willis and Mrs. Frank L. Stutzen were named. A third member will be added later to this board.

The Secretary, Mr. H. R. Rodecker, announced the appointment by Lake Division Headquarters, in Cleveland, of a Local Advisory Board for Fayette county's civilian relief committee. The members appointed were Judge P. G. Carpenter, Attorney Frank A. Chaffin, John Logan, H. M. Rankin.

Mr. Craig reported on a visit made to Camp Sherman and the desire of the local Red Cross to send over to the base hospitals, a constant stream of periodicals and papers and also jellies.

Mr. C. Graham Beckel was appointed chairman of a committee to attend to the magazines and papers and a chairman will be appointed soon to take charge of the work of sending jellies. The War Council headquarters at the court house will also be the headquarters for these branches of war relief work.

It is the desire of the Board to forward a shipment of jellies Monday and people of town and county are urged to bring jellies or other canned delicacies for hospital use to the War Council chamber Saturday.

A letter from Lake Division Headquarters giving instructions in regard to future work as taken up and put out through the R. C. workshop was read and discussed.

The Board decided to hold regular meetings the third Monday night of each month.

The mechanical equipment of the plant will be moved at once and it is expected the South Fayette street garage building will be closed up at least temporarily. Employees of the Cline Garage will be employed by the Arcade Garage, and Mr. Forest Cline will be associated with the Arcade Garage. The sale of the Cline Garage follows the departure of the junior member of the firm, Ralph Cline, leaving for Camp Sherman, Monday of this week.

Well Chosen Clothes

4 to 8 Years

We bring to mothers the kind of clothes that they delight to have their children wear, because there is something very charming about them which only designers of girls' clothes exclusively can put there.

Of course the materials are the proper thing for the proper occasion and the sturdy, practical, yet pretty ginghams, are here in great variety. We invite your inspection of the new models for girls from 4 to 8 years on special display and sale tomorrow.

Frocks of Tub Materials

Ginghams Leading

There never was a more all round practical frock than the frock of gingham—but there is a vast difference between the gingham of the present and the gingham of the past.

Gingham today takes its place among the most beautiful patterns and colorings of the dress materials used by dress designers. So in our exhibition of new styles in practical summer dresses, ginghams will be found a dominant style note.

MAX G. DICE AMONG MIAMI GRADUATES

Max G. Dice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed L. Dice, of this city, now located at Ft. Oglethorpe, Georgia, is among the two hundred graduates to receive their diplomas in the final exercises of Miami University held Tuesday.

Although the senior class of Miami has sent many men to the war during the year, a recent ruling of the faculty will make it possible for them to receive war certificates and be graduated with their class. As a result of this action the total number of the class of 1918 is but little smaller than those of recent years.

Major Eric Fisher Wood, who was to have been the Commencement speaker, has gone to France, and the University has secured in his place Major Woodcock of the British forces, now attached to Camp Sherman as a military adviser. Major Woodcock has seen active service with an Australian Gun Corps—a fact which makes his address of particular significance this year.

BOOKWALTER BOY IS FACING CHARGE

James Wilson, Jr., of Bookwalter, was arrested Monday by Deputy Sheriff Edwin Jones and A. C. Nelson, on an affidavit filed by Nellie Ellars, charging him with assault with intent to rob.

The young man was taken before Squire E. W. Rumer, of Paint township, who held him to the grand jury with bond fixed at $200, failing to give which he was taken to the county jail and locked up to await action of the grand jury.

The offense with which the young man stands charged was committed several days ago, and the evidence against him is said to be very damaging.

MISS WHITTAKER'S POPULAR RECIPES

Many women have expressed the wish that the Herald publish the recipes given by Miss Whittaker, who was sent here by the Ohio State University a couple of weeks ago and gave a series of interesting demonstrations and talks in the interest of food conservation.

Starting today the most popular of Miss Whittaker's recipes will be published from day to day.

The first recipes and foreword by Miss Whittaker follows:

Food will win the war. Let us set for ourselves, therefore, the task of learning the preparation and use of other cereals than wheat. Just as we have had to learn that not everybody can have porterhouse or tenderloin steak all the time because there is not enough to go 'round, so now we must learn that not everybody can have wheat flour all the time for exactly the same reason. There is not enough to go 'round. And just as it was necessary to learn how to cook the tougher cuts of meat in order to make them palatable and appetizing, so it is now necessary to learn the preparation of the less well known cereals. reason we do not like the products made of barley, cornmeal, oats, and buckwheat is due, largely, to the fact that we do not know how to prepare them well. It requires greater skill and more careful manipulation to make a good product of these grains than it does from wheat, consequently, they have not come into such general use as has wheat. For this reason it is plain that a knowledge of the materials and practices employed in the making of a white loaf is quite necessary to successful use of the grains suggested as substitutes. If the housewife does not understand the methods and practices for the making of a good loaf from wheat flour, it can hardly be expected that she will be able to secure a desirable loaf from the other cereal grains without practice.

The recipe for white bread is given because it forms the basis for all other recipes in which the substitute flours are used. The directions are for the short process method, though the long process may be used if desired.

White Bread

1 c. liquid milk or water; 1 1/4 t. salt; 1 t. sugar; 1 t. fat; 3 to 3 1/2 c. flour; 1/4 cake compressed yeast.

Scald milk. Cool one-fourth of it in which to blend the yeast. Pour the remainder over dry ingredients. When this has cooled sufficiently add the softened yeast. Add flour to make a medium stiff dough. Knead until smooth and elastic. Set to rise in a greased bowl in a pan of warm water. Let double in bulk and shape into loaf. Let rise again until loaves are almost, but not quite, double in bulk. Bake according to directions. This recipe makes one loaf.

Rye Bread.

Use recipe for white bread, except to substitute 1 to 2 tablespoons molasses for the sugar, and one-fourth to one-third rye flour for an equal amount of white flour.

Barley Bread.

Use recipe for white bread, except to substitute one-fourth to one-third barley flour for an equal amount of white flour.

In all dark breads molasses may be substituted for sugar.

CHANGE MADE IN HOLIDAY HOURS AT POST OFFICE

Decoration Day, May 30th, will be observed as a legal holiday in the local post office. Heretofore it has been the custom for the city carriers to make one full delivery on holidays but an order from the Post Office Department directs that this be curtailed to a window delivery of two hours.

No delivery will be made by the city carriers. Patrons can secure their mail by calling at the city carrier windows between 8 and 10 o'clock a. m.

The rural carriers will not make a delivery and the patrons of this service can also secure their mail by calling at the office during the time it is open.

The office will be open at the usual hour and close at ten o'clock a. m., remaining closed for the balance of the day.

SLACKERS NABBED BY B. & O. SLEUTH ONE IS A BURGLAR

Fred Lorraine, B. & O. detective, struck pay dirt when he pulled four slackers from a B. & O. train and it was later discovered that one of them was wanted by the Cincinnati Draft Board and that another was a burglar wanted in Pennsylvania for robbing a small store.

Monroe Black, one of the quartet of bums, was found to be carrying a large quantity of pennies, canvas money bag, two gold bracelets, two pocket knives, and other articles. After a rigid examination by Sheriff Jones and Detective Lorraine, the man admitted that he had stolen the money and articles from a general store at Mapleton, Pa. A telegram was sent to the authorities of that town.

Another of the men, James Burton, was wanted in Cincinnati to be inducted into the military service without further delay. The other two were put to work.

Tuesday morning Sheriff Jones received a message from Sheriff John A. Steele, Huntington, Pa., stating that a store had been robbed as told by the man held here, and asking to have the man at "the Pennsylvania station, Friday afternoon at two o'clock."

As the telegram was rather indefinite Sheriff Jones wired back that the man would be held here for a few days only, and that if he is wanted to come after him without delay.

MEMOIR.

Hipple.

Elizabeth Rachel Hipple, eldest daughter of George and Margaret Alleman, was born January 5, 1897, and departed this life May 24, 1918, aged 21 years, 4 months and 19 days. She was united in marriage to Franklin B. Hipple, November 18, 1916. To this union was born a son, Harvey Wendell. This little son was sent to them as an angel of love, and at the age of 5 months the angels carried him to the loving arms of the Good Shepherd. But the angels of God were not content with only the little bud, for at the closing of the day they took the rose, the cherished wife and mother to live with them and God.

She united with the First Baptist church at Greenfield, Ohio, at the age of 12 years, and in the faith of her Lord and Master she has answered the summons of his calling. She leaves to mourn her departure a father and mother, a most faithful and loving husband, 4 brothers and sisters and a host of many near relatives and friends.

Our darling has gone to live with God and the Angels. In our lives she will shine forth as one of the stars in the sky, and in our hearts and minds she will be a treasure laid up in heaven where some day we shall again meet her face to face.

We would not see our future lot, if mercy veiled it so. Our present step might harder seem. Did we the future know. And so we go on not knowing. We would not if we might. We'd rather walk in the dark with God, than walk alone by sight.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our thanks and deep appreciation of the many kindnesses shown us by neighbors and friends in the loss of our dear wife and daughter. Rev. Hart for his tender words of consolation, Undertaker Kirkpatrick for his careful attention and for the many beautiful floral offerings.

MALLOW STABLE IS AWAY FOR THE BIG RING

The new Mallow stable of high class horses booked through the Grand Circuit and the premier half mile track organization, fit and ready, after the preliminary early spring work outs, leaves the fair ground track today under driver and trainer Wert Mallow who has, by splendid work, won his way to the top ranks among the premier reinsmen of the nation.

In the big string are the following trotters: Don DeLopez 2:08½; Ormonde Rose 2:15½; Walter Douglas, 2:15½; Leola McKinney, 2:17½; Carpathia 2:23½; and Bingen Belle and the following pacers: Prince Verton 2:07½; Billy Fair 2:08½; Bell Wreath 2:12½; Maggie Wreath 2:13½; Golden Bond 2:13½; Col. Baron 2:15½; Babe 2:16½ and Sequel a green pacer.

Going with Mr. Mallow and the big stable Colby Turner ships two trotters, Ebony Todd 2:17½; and Lou R. green trotter and two pacers, Big Frank D. and a green pacer by Bay Wreath. All the horses are staked in advance of their entry into the "big shows."

Ormonde Rose, Billy Fair and Belle Wreath are staked through the Grand Circuit.

Mr. Mallow has left the home training ground with promising "strings" and has obtained big results in the years behind us but never has he left with a better and more promising bunch than that comprising this year's stable.

Local horsemen have watched the developments at the local track with deep interest this spring and feel confident that, as they anxiously scan the results in the big rings that Wert and his horses will be "there or thereabouts" in the tabulated results.

He will open the campaign at Cranwood, June 3rd.

ENTHUSIASM BEING DISPLAYED BY MEN AT CAMP SHERMAN

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., May 27.—The discipline in organizations of the Eighty Third Division here has been officially rated as "enthusiastic" by officers of the Inspector General's Department who have made a number of inspections here. Veteran officers of the division say that the enthusiasm the men show for their work is as fine as they have ever seen in the United States army in the past score of years.

Regimental commanders, far from being the orges which popular fancy makes them out to be in many cases, take a personal and fatherly interest in their men, the men say. As an example of this, officers point to the recent instructions from Major General E. F. Glenn that company and other commanders personally call on their men who are sick in the hospital and keep acquainted with their condition.

Colonel T. Q. Ashburn, commanding the 234th Heavy Artillery, and the 158th Artillery Brigade, and himself an Ohioan, had the following to say of the National Army men here:

"In my more than a score of years of active service handling troops in the army of the United States, I doubtless have come in contact with almost every possible and conceivable combination of human nature. Military service and discipline develop and bring out all there is that is good and bad in a man. Therefore I came to the National Army wondering just a little bit how the boys would show up under the absolutely new scheme under which they are to live for months.

"Therefore it is with pleasure that I am almost unable to express that I say that I have never seen anything so wonderful, as comprehensive and as typical of what we like to call American as the manner in which the boys in my command have taken to soldiering. I fail to see where their spirit can be improved and the spirit is what makes a soldier and an outfit.

"I was never as proud of anything as I am with the boys of the 324th."

NEW TAXES FOR THE HUN CIVILIAN

(Associated Press Correspondence)

Amsterdam, May 20.—For the first time since war began, Germany is now attempting to help pay the expenses of war by new taxation. The new finance program calls for new German taxes to yield over $800,000,000. This new burden is described by the German Finance Minister as "the price of victory."

New taxes on beer, wine and spirits, tea, coffee and cocoa are to yield $450,000,000, while postal and telegraph increases are estimated to return $85,000,000. There are also to be increases in stamp duties. These taxes, which are said by the newspapers to be "only a beginning," are the greatest in amount ever asked from German taxpayers. The Finance Minister describes the taxes as "mainly aimed against only the richer classes."

ACUTE HEARING ON BATTLEFRONT

(Associated Press Correspondence)

London, May 20.—Officers home from the front testify to the acute hearing powers displayed by the Indian and Chinese coolie laborers with the troops in France. The Eastern auxiliaries are ever the first to detect the nearest hostile airplane and to fall prone as a measure of self-protection.

In this way they give a valuable lead to the British and French soldiers, who are comparatively slow in detecting the difference in sound between the rival air machines.

RED CROSS ACTIVITIES

The local Red Cross Chapter has received a letter of instruction from the American Red Cross Lake Division Headquarters which necessitates some important changes in order to most effectively carry out the definite plan for Chapter production under government direction. The changes in cutting, garment making and buying are in line with a systematic effort by which work will be systematized and each Chapter do an assigned part in making up of the full quota.

The matter is fully explained in the letter which reads:

May 22, 1918.

To The Chapters:

The Division office is in receipt from Washington of a series of instructions regarding chapter production. These new instructions are drawn in view of large orders received by Washington from the Commissions in France and Italy, and in consideration of changed and changing conditions governing the supplies of raw material accessible to the Red Cross. They constitute a very sociable modification of the regulations for production by the chapters.

From these instructions the following essential points are selected and sent you for your immediate observance:

1. Chapters are asked to cease the cutting of garments, until a new assignment shall reach them from the Division office. This is to conserve your supplies of material on hand, inasmuch as many of the garments that have been most commonly made in the past are not in the new allotment assigned to the Lake Division.

2. Henceforward, all raw materials whatsoever must be purchased through the Division warehouse—chapters must not buy in the open market. Outside purchases increase the difficulties of the Department of Supplies in securing prompt deliveries and reasonable prices. The Red Cross is working under a complete understanding with government in this matter, to get the advantage of which arrangement, the Red Cross has agreed to control the purchases of the chapters. Such advantage as has accrued to certain chapters through outside purchasing in the way of expediting the delivery of finished products is more than offset by the disturbance to the market caused by such buying.

3. Henceforward, definite quotas of garments and knitted articles will be sent to the chapters. This means that from this time forth, chapters will be asked to produce certain articles in certain definite quantities, neither more nor less; and that chapters will be expected to confine their production to such articles as are asked for by the Division, under instructions from Washington. The purpose of this regulation is, first, the conservation of raw materials; second, the making sure that there shall not be over-production of some articles and dearth of others.

Very truly yours,

F. E. ABBOTT,

Director, Bureau of Development.

REMARKABLE SALE

HELD IN ITALY

(Associated Press Correspondence)

Padua, Italy, May 1.—There was a stirring scene in the central square of the city on a recent Sunday when the American Red Cross began its sale of garments made by the wives and daughters of Italian soldiers at the front. The great square of United Italy was crowded with peasant women for miles around eager to obtain some of the garments, for, besides giving employment to the women the Red Cross sells the product at a small nominal price to the families of soldiers. A file of Carabinieri were required to keep back the throng, and the rush for the sales counters was so great that Captain Thwaites, the American official in charge, was obliged to adopt the plan of issuing numbers to the buyers.

The work-rooms where several hundred women are employed during the week, was cleared, for the sale and long counters were piled high with clothes, blouses, children's suits and undergarments, and all the miscellaneous articles of an extensive woman's furnishing establishment. The saleswomen were drawn from the best known families of Padua, with Countess Papapava and other titled women adjusting pinafores on peasant children and meeting the demands of the anxious buyers.

In the two hours of the opening sale the peasant women had bought 3,000 lire worth of garments, a large sum for people of scant means. The goods were worth two or three times that amount and represented several thousand lire paid in wages by the Red Cross to the hundreds of girl workers. Every worker and every buyer must show a card establishing relationship with a soldier, and thus the work is kept as one of military utility.

Later in the day the results of the sale were apparent on the main streets as the peasant women with their children went by proudly wearing their Red Cross garments, which, in a way, have transformed the appearance of many of these people giving them an air of cleanliness.

SOLONS WILL DO AS ASKED

Washington, May 28.—Congress has yielded to President Wilson's demand that a war revenue measure be enacted at this session.

There still was reluctance in some quarters to believe immediate revenue legislation imperative, but plans for midsummer adjournment were abandoned and both Democratic and Republican leaders expressed their determination to go at the task of passing a war tax bill with a will.

A suggestion by the president that most of the new taxes probably would fall upon incomes, excess profits and luxuries and that profiteers could be reached in this way, was greeted with cheers and congressional leaders said later the money needed would come from these sources.

To initiate the bill, it was announced that public hearings would be begun early in June by the house ways and means committee, to be followed by co-operation in its drafting with the senate finance committee. Presentation of the measure to the house in July was regarded as assured.

One of the big problems to be worked out first is the proportion of new taxes to bond issue authorizations in the neighborhood of $20,000,000,000 must be provided to meet expenses of the coming year. In a memorandum recently given to members of congress, the president suggested that 40 per cent should be raised by taxation. This would mean bond issues for some $12,000,000,000, and doubling of the approximately $4,000,000,000 levied in taxes this year.

Representative Kitchin, chairman of the ways and means committee, announced that he had called on the treasury for a great deal of data for submission before calling the committee together. The entire committee will participate in framing the measure.

Mr. Kitchin said the increases from the income and excess profits taxes will be effected by readjusting excess profits and income surtaxes and that the bill will double the aggregate received from these sources without doubling the rates. He said there is little room to lower the $1,000 and $2,000 incomes, respectively, now allowed single and married persons. Those who have made large profits as the result of the war, he declared, will be especially aimed at. At least two weeks of public hearings are planned, and Mr. Kitchin said he did not see how the bill could become a law until about Nov. 1.

ENEMY QUICKLY DRIVEN AWAY

Washington, May 28.—General Pershing's communique, issued by the war department, makes no mention of a general renewal of the German drive, but says after violent artillery preparation enemy infantry penetrated advanced American positions in Paderby at two points, only to be driven out by counter attacks in which Americans entered the enemy lines. General Pershing's communication says:

"In Paderby, after violent artillery preparation, hostile infantry detachments succeeded in penetrating our advanced position at two points. Our troops counter attacked, completely expelling the enemy and entering his lines."

"In the Woevre, a strong hostile raiding party was repulsed with losses in killed and wounded."

"In Lorraine hostile gas shell bombardments of some intensity occurred. The day was quiet in the other sectors occupied by our troops."

"In the course of air combats, our aviators shot down a hostile machine."

SERGEANT HYER AND OTHERS REACH GERMAN THIRD LINE

Shot and Shell Were Thick and Smoke Enveloped Them, but Plucky Boys of Old M Company Go Over the Top and Drive Boche Out of Trenches.

Writing to his wife in this city under date of May 5th, Sergeant W. B. Hyer, son of Dr. A. A. Hyer, of this city, and a member of M Company, tells of his first experience "over the top" and how he and others of the company penetrated the German third line.

His letter gives some idea of the reason that M Company suffered a half dozen or more casualties in slightly or severely wounded about the first of this month.

Sergeant Hyer writes two letters, and the body of them is given below: Somewhere in France, May 2nd, 7:30.

Dear Wife: Just a few lines to let you know I am still in good health and thinking of the folks at home, although I have been kept so busy from morning until evening I haven't had time to write much.

This letter will necessarily have to be short, and I want to ask a special request,—just keep this letter separate from all the rest. I cannot tell you the reason why now, but can later, as I think I may wish to refresh my mind on certain dates when I get back. I think your letters to me must be in the bottom of the sea, for I haven't heard from any of the folks since March 29th.

Must close now and get some sleep as I must rise early in the morning. Give my regards to all inquiring friends.

SERGEANT W. B. HYER.
Co. "M" 164th U. S.
Sergeant Hyer's second letter follows:

France, May 5th 1918.
Yesterday I received letters from dad and you dated April 4th. I certainly do enjoy letters from the folks at home.

I expect when you get my last letter you will wonder at the strange request I made, and I told you I would explain why and here it is, as much as I can say:

To start with, it was on the eve of my departure to go "over the top" so you see why I wished to remember the date. I am back now safe and without a scratch, not counting those made by barbed wire.

It was just breaking day when we started, and shot and shell broke loose with a will. To talk and be understood, was impossible. The air was black with smoke, I was among those who went to the "Boche" Third Line, that is, to what was left of them, and returned safe with the men that were with me.

Altogether I was lucky. I wouldn't take a million for my experience as it was all that generals and authors who know all about it have written about it, but one thing—there wasn't a man in the outfit who showed fear. So now we are veterans after all and ready to take on our weight in Boche anytime, and "No Man's Land" belongs to us. I presume though you will have read all about it before this. So enough for all that, and am sorry that I will have to save the tales of the thrills for a later date.

As I am going to the band concert will close cautioning you not to worry about me for I can take care of myself.

SERGEANT W. B. HYER.

"Y" COMES TO AID OF SOLDIERS SENT OUT TO TARGET PRACTICE

Camp Sherman, Ohio, May 28.—Men at the rifle range need entertainment as well as the thousands left in camp. Perhaps they need it more. At any rate they wanted it and they've been getting it at Camp Sherman. All day at the targets, eating in the open as best they can, and thinking of sleeping on the ground in a pup tent is the time that a "feller" needs a friend"—and the friend is at hand.

R. H. Kirkendall, Y. M. C. A. entertainment director, and Private Pat Stromberg, in charge of camp amateur theatricals, took the matter in hand and arranged entertainments for the men. A big Kelly truck was secured from the Quartermaster's department, loaded on the piano from the big "Y" auditorium along with a considerable array of camp musical and vaudeville talent and headed for the rifle range. The entire trip was a tour of triumph as the presence on the streets of a jazz band loaded on a motor truck was an innovation and the performers were greeted by a continual ovation.

Arriving at the rifle range the truck was placed in front of a Y. M. C. A. tent, the end and one side of the truck were let down and the floor of the big vehicle served as a stage lighted by the truck head lights which were turned backward so as to spread their light over the truck. A thousand or more men gathered around the improvised theater and shouted their approval as jazz band, soloists, quartet and vaudeville performers gave their choicest offerings. In city circles such a show would be called supreme vaudeville.

HOG THIEF SENT TO CAMP SHERMAN ADMITS OFFENSE

Sold Eight Porkers from Laura E. Jones Farm in Madison Township and Buyer Becomes Suspicious—Fred Clark, Married Week Ago, in Trouble.

Acting on information which reached them, Prosecutor H. M. Rankin and Sheriff Henry W. Jones made a little investigation which resulted in the apprehension of Fred Clark, residing on the Laura E. Jones farm in Madison township, who is said to have admitted the theft of eight hogs from the farm, which were sold to Ben Keller, of Mt. Sterling.

Clark was given his choice of facing the charge of stealing the hogs or being immediately inducted into the army. He chose the latter and is now in Camp Sherman wearing the uniform of Uncle Sam instead of being in prison facing a charge that might place a somewhat different uniform on him.

Keller, after buying the hogs, became suspicious of the man and stopped payment on the check given for the porkers, so that when Clark was taken into custody he had not realized one cent on the animals. They were returned to the Jones farm.

Clark is 25 years of age, and was released from the Mansfield reformatory last summer, after registering in the reformatory for military service. It is understood a companion who is alleged to have assisted Clark will soon be apprehended.

LOW AWNINGS ARE CAUSE OF ANNOYANCE

Attention has been called to numerous low awnings in front of some places of business, where the iron supports, or rods, often are left so that a pedestrian, unless he ducks his head is liable to severe injury. Awnings with flaps that strike the hat of the pedestrian, man or woman, are common.

"If that man knew the amount of business that awning is driving away from him, the enemies it makes and the great annoyance it is to the public, he would lose no time in removing the obstruction from the sidewalk," said an angry citizen a day or two ago as he picked up his hat which had been knocked to the sidewalk by one of the obtrusive awnings.

It is pointed out that a low awning is just as much an obstruction to a sidewalk as if a barrel were placed in the middle of the pavement, and the pedestrian is entitled to the same damage that he could receive by bringing action against the owner of an awning for injuries sustained.

The "Kaiser's Goat" which had previously changed hands in this county and brought a total of $1,000, changed hands a great many times at the Red Cross auction held at Sedalia, netting $827.50 and finally falling into the hands of the former owner, Bob Minshall, who is now pasturing the goat on the village dump where tin can labels are plentiful.

The Red Cross auction in which the goat played such a prominent part netted the Red Cross about $3200.
